Our mission and values

Quality - Flexibility - Service - Reliability

As a producer and distributor of lubricants, we are committed to upholding these four values, which we apply to every product and customer relationship. They enable us to respond flexible to the demands of our international as well as local customers. Because we have held on to this mindset for years, we have gradually been able to increase our production and become a global player.

Our ambition is great: we aim to ensure that our clients all over the world are able to work in a well-oiled manner, without any concessions to service.
